DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of invention of Group I, claims 1-14 filed October 9, 2003 is acknowledged.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 5 and 12 are objected to because of the extra period punctuation at the end. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 6 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claims 6 and 13, the phrases "MS 5A" and "MS 3A" are indefinite because they are not defined or are not common terms.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102 and 103

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by HEMINGWAY (6,464,945). See Figs. 8, 5-6 and col. 5, lines 14-20.

8. Claims 2-4, 6-11, 13 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over HEMINGWAY '945 in view of BARLOW et al. (5,914,015). HEMINGWAY further discloses in col. 1, lines 45-60 and col. 2, lines 7-8 that a reactor comprises a group of relatively thin stacked cells forming a gas passage and separately by an insulating means wherein electrodes are formed by conductive ink sandwiched between two thin non porous alumina plates and alternate ground and charge carrying electrodes in the insulating means on opposite sides of the cells are disposed close to, but electrically insulated from, the cells by the insulating means. The difference between HEMINGWAY and the instant claims is the provision of catalyst on top of the dielectric coated electrode. BARLOW shows the above limitation in a reactor for treating exhaust gas (see Figs. 2 and 2B; and

col. 4, lines 8-11). The subject matter as a whole would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified HEMINGWAY's teachings as suggested by BARLOW because this would provide alternating reductive and oxidative zones for exhaust gas processing.

As to the subject matter of each of claims 3, 6, 8, 10 and 13, the selection of the thickness of dielectric plates, equivalent zeolite materials and power supply unit would be within the skill of ordinary level in the art.

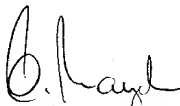

9. Claims 5 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over HEMINGWAY '945 as modified by BARLOW '015 as applied to claims 2-4, 6-11, 13 and 14 above, and further in view of HENIS (3,983,021). The further difference between the references as applied above and the instant claims is the recited of metallic catalyst as the catalysts. HENIS shows in reactor for treating exhaust gases by electric discharge the use of the recited metallic elements as the catalyst in addition to titania or silicon oxide (col. 10, lines 12-45). The subject matter as a whole would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the references' teachings as suggested by HENIS because the selection of any of known equivalent catalyst materials would be within the level of ordinary skill in the art.
